Come Out, Come Out, Wherever You Are!

Prey is an animal that is hunted for food. Every day is a struggle to survive as they must search for food and avoid being eaten. That’s why prey use different tricks, called adaptations, to hide from danger. For example, a skunk’s adaptation is its stinky smell, and a turtle’s adaptation is its hard, protective shell. Pretend you are a prey animal. In the box, draw yourself and write what adaptations you use to survive.

Who Am I?

Black bear, elk, and wild turkey are three animals that call Heil Valley Ranch home. Draw a line connecting each animal to the appropriate description.

I Spy With My Little Eye

Look for each of the items described below. Once you spy something, write it on the line.

Yummy yummy in my tummy.
I spy something an animal might eat.

Pick up a rock and look underneath.
I spy an insect.

Look up! I spy something in the sky.

Take this Mystery Guide and a pen or pencil with you as you explore. To complete your Nature Detective training at this park, complete at least 3 of the 6 activities.

Inside you will find a map of the park, which will serve as a guide. Some activities correspond to locations on the map, and some activities can be done anywhere.

Feel free to get help from grown-ups on this, but remember, these activities are for you! You can write or draw anywhere in this mystery guide. The more thoughtful and artistic, the better!

Your Case:
Heil Valley Ranch

This park is home to a variety of wildlife. Tuft-eared Abert’s squirrels are often seen in this pine forest, and elk migrate here in winter from higher elevations. In the past, Native Americans, beaver trappers, gold seekers, and cattle ranchers have also called Heil Valley Ranch home.
