Developmental Evaluation

Talking with Parents

Sometimes it can be hard to know what to say to a parent when you have concerns or a developmental screening tool indicates that their child would benefit from a more thorough evaluation. Remember that at this stage you are using your professional judgement or a screening tool; you have not diagnosed a developmental delay.

You are helping parents to create a healthy foundation for their child; healthy physical, social, and emotional development is essential for success in school and life. Below are some things to keep in mind when talking to parents about a concern.

Conversation Tips: Empowering parents to want more information

- Take time to elicit their thoughts and feelings
 - If a parent is anxious, validate that their feelings are normal. The more you remain calm, the more calm the parent will be.
 - Explain that the parent hasn't done anything wrong.
- Reassure parents that an evaluation does not necessarily mean that their child will need services, nor does it commit them to services if that's what is recommended.
 - Services are completely voluntary.
- Tell them it is common to refer children for further evaluation, and that this is a positive step they can take to get more information on how to best support their child.
 - We know that parents want to give their children every advantage possible.

Sample Statements

1. Accentuate the positive first.

Thank you for participating in John's developmental screening. I noticed how well he is using his hands and fingers to reach for objects. He is also making a lot of appropriate sounds for his age. You must be talking and singing to him a lot at home, because what a difference you are making!

2. Ask for their feedback.

I noticed that he is not rolling over yet. This is a milestone I would typically expect to see at this age. What are your thoughts?

3. Make your recommendation.

I think it would be helpful to have someone who specializes in early childhood development take a closer look at him. We all want what's best for John and to give him every advantage possible. Let's see if he needs a little extra help in reaching his milestones.

4. Emphasize that earlier is better.

John's brain is growing so rapidly, and he is learning so many new things at this age. If he does need help, evidence shows that getting help early can make a big difference for his later development. This way we're doing everything we can to make sure he's ready for kindergarten.

Evaluación del desarrollo

Hablar con los padres de familia

Algunas veces puede ser difícil saber cómo transmitirle a los padres de familia cuando tiene preocupaciones o una herramienta de evaluación del desarrollo indica que su hijo(a) se beneficiaría de una evaluación minuciosa. Recuerde que en esta etapa está utilizando su juicio profesional o una herramienta de detección; usted no ha diagnosticado un retraso del desarrollo.

Está ayudando a los padres de familia a crear una base saludable para su hijo(a), por lo que un desarrollo físico, social y emocional saludable es esencial para tener éxito en la escuela y la vida. A continuación se mencionan algunas cosas que debe tener en cuenta cuando habla con los padres de familia acerca de sus preocupaciones.

Consejos para la conversación: Aliente el interés de los padres de familia por obtener más información

- Tómese el tiempo para preguntarles sobre lo que piensan y sienten
 - Si un padre de familia está ansioso, hágale saber que sus sentimientos son normales. Mientras se mantenga en calma, más tranquilo se sentirá el padre de familia
 - Explique que el padre de familia no ha hecho nada mal.
- Asegúrele a los padres que la evaluación no necesariamente significa que su hijo(a) necesitará de servicios, ni que los compromete a obtenerlos en caso de que sea lo recomendado
 - Los servicios son completamente voluntarios.
- Dígales que es común que se derive a los niños a una evaluación adicional, y que este es un paso positivo que pueden tomar para obtener más información sobre cómo apoyar de mejor manera a su hijo(a).
 - Sabemos que los padres desean darle a sus hijos toda ventaja posible.

Ejemplo de declaraciones

1. Resaltar lo positivo primero.

Gracias por participar en la evaluación del desarrollo de John. He notado lo bien que utiliza sus manos y dedos para alcanzar objetos. También produce una gran cantidad de sonidos apropiados para su edad. Seguro le hablan y cantan mucho en casa ¡porque hacen una gran diferencia!

2. Pida sus comentarios.

He notado que él aún no se da la vuelta. Este es un avance que por lo general esperaría ver a esta edad. ¿Qué opina?

3. Haga sus recomendaciones

Creo que sería útil pedirle a alguien que se especializa en el desarrollo de la temprana edad que le realice un examen más profundo. Todos queremos lo mejor para John y darle toda ventaja posible. Veamos si él necesita un poco de ayuda adicional para alcanzar estos avances.

4. Enfatique que mientras sea antes mejor.

El cerebro de John crece muy rápidamente y él aprende muchas cosas nuevas a esta edad. Si él necesita ayuda, las evidencias demuestran que recibir ayuda en una etapa temprana puede marcar una gran diferencia para su desarrollo más adelante. De esta forma nos aseguramos de hacer todo lo que posible para que esté preparado para el jardín de infantes.

Cultural & Relationship Considerations

Developing a relationship of trust with a family is consistently noted by early childhood experts as an important factor that would encourage a family to act upon a recommendation. Having a conversation with a parent about referring their child for a more thorough evaluation can be challenging with any family, especially if the family has a cultural background that you are not familiar with. “Culture” may refer to a different country, but it could also mean issues related to poverty, teen parenting, family values, belief systems, etc. Below are tips from providers who have these conversations.

Learn About Their Culture

Prior to speaking with a family it may be helpful to research their culture. However, keep in mind that culture varies from region to region within countries. It really is best to ask the family questions about their culture instead of relying on preconceived ideas from research. You can ask, “What would be helpful for me to know about the (Mexican, Chinese, Arabic, etc.) culture? How are children prepared for school in (Mexico, China, Saudi Arabia)?” Remember that you might need the assistance of an interpreter.

Show Respect

Showing that you care about their child is key to a family being willing to take action on your referral. Some ways to do that include:

- Pronouncing their child’s name correctly
- Focusing on their child’s strengths before discussing possible areas of concern
- Asking the parents for their feedback

Listen

All families want to be heard. Take the time to really listen to their perspective when they are reluctant to pursue an evaluation. Realize that they may be preoccupied with other issues such as finances or transportation. Can you help identify and assist with these potential barriers?

Allow Time for the Referral

It is important to give the family time to make their decision. Sometimes this can take more than one meeting to accomplish. Respect families’ varying levels of readiness and do not rush the referral if they are not ready.

Explain American Culture

You may need to explain American culture and the importance of early childhood education. Parents may not realize that there is an expectation for school readiness before a child starts kindergarten. Teachers expect students to have solid speech, fine motor and social skills.

Offer Written Explanations

It is helpful to provide a written summary for parents in English, as well as their native language, after you discuss their child’s developmental concerns. This provides another way for them to understand and process the information and can be used as a future reference.

Developmental Evaluation

Dear family,

Your child's growth is more than just physical. You can see their development by how they play, learn, speak, behave and move. You play a very important role in supporting your child's development.

Based on today's screening we recommend further evaluation of your child's development. Evaluations are available at no cost to you. We know that all children develop differently and some children need a boost or support to help them along the way. Together, we can make sure your child's development is on track.

Getting Support

The programs listed below can provide further evaluation at no cost to you. The evaluation will give a clearer picture of your child's development and identify additional help that might be needed. The evaluation will also determine if your child is eligible for the extra support provided by these agencies and will provide information about other resources and supports for your family.

What to Expect
