GET MORE at the FARMERS MARKET
Get more with your SNAP and WIC benefits when you shop at the Boulder, Lafayette, and Longmont farmers markets.
Buying your fruits and vegetables at the Boulder County Farmers Markets can help you and your family stay healthy. In fact, many farmers go to great lengths to grow the most nutritious produce possible.

Locally Grown Produce is Healthier

Freshly picked, in-season produce is at its peak in flavor and nutrition. As soon as fruits and vegetables are picked they start to lose some of their vitamins. The fruits and vegetables from the farmers market ripen on the plant rather than in the store, so they keep their healthy vitamins longer.

Locally Grown Produce Supports Local Families

Buying from the local farmers market helps to support small family farmers. Buying directly from farmers reduces costs to them and helps them to continue growing healthy, nutritious food for our community. And supporting local farmers supports our local economy and environment.

TIPS FOR THE MARKET

- RIDE YOUR BIKE!
- RIDE THE BUS!
- BRING YOUR OWN BAGS!
- AND PLEASE REMEMBER TO LEAVE YOUR PETS AT HOME.

Get More Fresh Food at the Farmers Market

How It Works

If you’re enrolled in food assistance (SNAP) or WIC you can get more at the Boulder, Lafayette, and Longmont farmers markets. Just start your visit at the orange information tent at the market.

SNAP Participants

Swipe your EBT card at the information tent to get SNAP bucks to purchase SNAP-eligible foods anywhere in the market. For every dollar you withdraw from your SNAP account you will receive an equal amount of Double Up Bucks, which can be used to buy fresh fruits and vegetables up to $20 per visit ($40 at the market in Boulder).

WIC Participants

If you’re enrolled in WIC you can receive farmers market bucks to buy fruits, vegetables, meat, eggs, and cheese. Just show your eWIC card with this year’s sticker at the information tent to receive your WIC bucks (while supplies last). Contact your WIC office if you haven’t received a sticker for this year.
