Walnut Wonders: The Ramey Homestead Black Walnut Woodworking Exhibit
Rules and Guidelines

Boulder County Parks & Open Space will hold an exhibit from Friday, November 13 through Wednesday, December 30, 2020 at The Great Frame Up Longmont. Selected woodworkers will display and sell creations of functional art, turned bowls and vases, furniture, wood sculptures, and folk art from harvested wood from the Ramey Homestead’s large black walnut tree. The tree succumbed to Thousand Cankers Disease and was removed for safety reasons.

By accepting the black walnut wood from the Ramey Homestead, you are agreeing to submit an entry by Tuesday, August 18, 2020 for consideration for exhibit, and should your work be selected, to exhibit and market for sale the created work.

In order to be eligible to apply, woodworkers must:
- Be a Colorado resident.
- Submit an application for wood by Feb. 27, 2019.
- Pick up the requested wood on either March 14 between 8 a.m. - noon or April 2 between 1 - 5 p.m. at the Ramey Homestead on the west side of Longmont. Directions will be provided after the application is submitted for wood.

Participants must agree to the following terms:
- The wood is free and there is no cost to submit works for consideration.
- Created works must be completed, photographed, and submitted by Tuesday, August 18, 2020.
- Boulder County Parks & Open Space will make the final decision on works to be exhibited and reserves the right to refrain exhibiting work for any reason.
- All applicants will be notified of acceptance or rejection to have their work included in the exhibit by Thursday, October 8, 2020.
- Work chosen for exhibit must be dropped off at The Great Frame Up Longmont on Monday, November 9 and Tuesday, November 10 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.
- Exhibitors are expected to pick up unsold work from The Great Frame Up Longmont on Monday, January 4, 2021, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.
- Woodworkers agree to make their work available for sale on consignment with The Great Frame Up Longmont. The Great Frame Up Longmont will take a 35% commission on the sale price of all pieces sold at the show and will handle all transactions for the artists including collecting and submitting the required sales taxes.
- Boulder County Parks & Open Space will not provide a stipend or any other financial compensation.
• If the quality of the work created is judged to be not of equivalent quality to electronic submissions, works may not be exhibited.
• Boulder County Parks & Open Space does NOT carry insurance for the work to be exhibited. Insurance for exhibited work is the sole responsibility of the artist.
• Agree that:
  o Any items designed to be hung on the wall must weigh less than 50 pounds and have a wire for hanging (no cleats, screws, or sawtooth hangers).
  o Pieces to be displayed on the floor must weigh less than 300 pounds and be no more than 60” wide and 30” deep unless otherwise approved.
  o Work that is to be displayed on a table or pedestal must weigh less than 50 pounds and be no more than 40” wide or long and 20” deep.
• Photos of submitted works may be used by Boulder County Parks & Open Space for publicity of Walnut Wonders: The Ramey Homestead Black Walnut Woodworking Exhibit only.
• The woodworker authorizes Boulder County Parks & Open Space to use the artist’s name, likeness, and consigned works solely in connection with publicizing the exhibit.
• Woodworkers are responsible for their own expenses including transportation to pick up the wood and deliver the final product for exhibit and collect any unsold work at the end of the exhibit, as well as for the tools and supplies used in creating the product.

Contact Karen Imbierowicz at kimbierowicz@bouldercounty.org or 303-678-6268 for more information or visit www.BoulderCounty.org/woodworking-exhibit.